

EP 01 03736 A1

Abstract

For coating hydrogen storage material with palladium, the hydrogen storage material (e.g. FeTi) is first depassivated on its surface, and a thin palladium layer is then produced on or applied to the depassivated surface by ion exchange.